Hey! Get Mental!

CHRISTINA MAZZALUPO

south gallery • JUNE 8–JULY 15, 2006 • Opening: Thursday, June 8, 6–8pm

Mixed Greens is thrilled to announce their second solo exhibition with Christina Mazzalupo. In her new body of work, Mazzalupo expands the size and scope of her comedic line drawings into graphic, animated nightmares.

On a smooth, velvety vellum surface, dozens of competing elements float above a tiny, dreaming figure. Urban landscapes meet animals, airplanes, weapons, characters and catastrophes. Vignettes morph and melt into one another.

Through her new drawings and paintings, Mazzalupo explores the relationship between psychological perspective and creative process. Dwarfed by the complexity and confusion of the weighty thought-bubble above, the isolated sleeping figure is the generator of chaos. Together, the figure and dream embody the multiple perspectives, inspirations and impulses that exist simultaneously in Mazzalupo's mind.

Christina Mazzalupo received her MFA from New York University (1997). Upon graduation, her work was featured in a White Room exhibition at White Columns, New York (1998). Since then, she has shown in group exhibitions in many cities including Santa Monica, CA (2003), Houston, TX (2002), Fairfield, CT (1999) and Badajoz, Spain (1996). Her first solo exhibition was with Mixed Greens, New York (2004).

Mixed Greens sells original contemporary art online, through our catalog and in our New York gallery. Founded in 1999 on the belief that great art should be accessible to everyone, the gallery currently represents a diverse group of artists, including painters, photographers and sculptors.
